Open Source Diversity is a collective of people who want to push more diversity & inclusion in free & open source software communities.❀

We have a hub website at opensourcediversity.org
showcasing diversity & inclusion initiatives which are already out there. It should be an entry point both for projects to learn how to improve, and for people of underrepresented groups to know how to get involved.🤝

Basics

First steps to help make your open source project more friendly and inclusive

Website

◆ Basics - first steps to help make your open source project more friendly and inclusive (CoC, starter issues etc)
◆ Projects - open source projects which support underrepresented groups and where you can participate ◆ Spaces - local spaces or meetups where you can work with like-minded people!
◆ Programs - programs for mentorship, funding or networking
◆ Events - to be developed → we use Twitter account for now 🐦
◆ Articles - background information on diversity & inclusion in open source

🐛 Issues or suggestions

If you found an issue on the page or only have a quick suggestion (for example a project to add), please open a new issue in our issue list. Thank you! 👍

👷‍♀️ Contribute code or design

Contributing to this page is very easy!

1. 💻 Clone this repository using GitHub Desktop (you can also use the command line)
2. 🌐 Simply open the `index.html` in your browser (no web server required since it's all client-side :)
3. ✏️ Make some changes using your text editor and test them in the browser
4. 🚀 Use GitHub Desktop to create a branch with your changes, push, and open a pull request

And that's it! 🎉 Contributing to other open source projects is very similar, so you know the steps already!

As framework we use 🅱 Bootstrap which you might already be familiar with. It's very popular, so even if you don't know it yet, learning about it will help you with lots of other projects too! 😊

📐 Project logos

- A good source for logos is their website or Twitter picture. SVG is preferred as the file size is usually smaller and it scales.
- The logos should have a maximum size of 300*300px.
- PNG and JPG logos are compressed with Trimage which is lossless. (We can also try Image Shrinker but apparently this is lossy, so we shouldn't use it for any source assets.)
- SVG images can be compressed using the also lossless scour using the command line: `scour -i filename.svg -o filename-compressed.svg --create-groups --enable-id-stripping --enable-comment-stripping --shorten-ids --remove-`
